Response: Students who demonstrated unexpected expenses or hardships related to the disruption of campus operations because of COVID-19 were asked to submit applications for funding. The student applications were reviewed by the financial aid team. Expenses and/or hardships provided within the application were then reviewed to determine if minimum qualifying criteria for interruption funding had been met. In addition, students were reviewed to ensure they were not in default/overpayment on any existing Federal loans or grants. Students were awarded utilizing a formula that reviews students class level, enrollment status (full time, etc.), and expected family contribution (EFC). If an EFC was unavailable, students were awarded in the highest EFC category. There is a cap on approved funding for undergraduate and graduate students to provide greatest access to all eligible students. Students were advised that there would be more than one opportunity to apply for funds, in order to ensure that there would be ongoing opportunities for affected individuals to receive assistance. Undergraduate students, with highest demonstrated financial need, are awarded maximum awards.

7. Any instructions, directions, or guidance provided by the institution to students concerning the Emergency Financial Aid Grants.

Response: Email communications are regularly sent to students to inform them of available funding. In the communications, students are referred to the CARES Act website which includes the application to submit for funding and FAQ's.
