Fall 2020 Academic Affairs Announcement

Charles R. Drew University of Medicine and Science is announcing a hybrid delivery format for fall 2020. In response to the ongoing COVID-19 emergency, most courses will be delivered remotely. On-campus classes will be limited to those that have specific need of hands-on instructional activities. Specifically, the following types of classes will be held, at least partially, or at their respective clinical sites:

- Clinical Education Classes (clinical rotations)
- Some Laboratory Education Classes
- Some Simulation Education Classes

New and continuing students will receive specific course by course delivery format information at registration, and class meeting details will be included in the course syllabus. Fall registration opens on July 6th, 2020 for continuing students.

Orientation for new Undergraduate students is August 18-19, 2020.

Orientation for new Graduate students is August 25-26, 2020.

Sincerely,
